DIVISION AWARDS APPLICATION

INTRODUCTION

When you have found a university that offers everything you are looking for – inspirational students taught by great faculty on a beautiful campus in an exciting location – cost should not be the primary factor determining whether to apply or attend. The advantages include smaller classes, closer teacher-student interaction, the support of the Trojan Family worldwide, and the chance to develop individualized programs, to name a few. At least 60% of our students receive some type of financial assistance. Most students who demonstrate financial need and meet all eligibility requirements and deadlines qualify for low-interest loans and work-study. The purpose of this document is to provide you with as much assistance as possible with preparing yourself financially to attend our program. Please find more information at this website: <http://chan.usc.edu/admissions/financial-aid/tuition-and-fees>

Undergraduate students may be eligible to receive federal, state and university grants, merit scholarships, Federal Work-Study, and federal and private loans. Because grants, scholarships and work-study funds do not have to be repaid after graduation, students are encouraged to apply to those programs before borrowing student loans. Graduate students who qualify typically receive low-interest loans, Federal Work-Study, scholarships and departmental or teaching assistantships. All students applying for federal and university aid must demonstrate financial need and meet all eligibility requirements and deadlines to qualify.

ESTIMATED COSTS OF ATTENDANCE

The USC estimated Cost of Attendance is an average figure used to determine your financial aid eligibility. It includes standard expenses, such as tuition, fees, books, supplies, and room and board. Keep in mind that your actual costs may differ. Tuition is charged at the same rate for both in-state and out-of-state residents. Your estimated Cost of Attendance is printed on your Financial Aid Award Summary Letter, and is also available online at My Financial Aid & Documents. In some cases we can increase your budget, to cover any additional expenses. For more information, please visit Special Circumstances.

Doctor of Philosophy in Occupational Science (Ph.D.)

Currently, students selected for admission to the Ph.D. program are awarded fellowships or assistantships which cover 12 units of tuition support in fall, spring and summer, an annual stipend of $37,000, and student health and dental benefits. Total support is estimated to be about $60,000 per year.

FINANCIAL RESOURCES FOR STUDENTS

The University of Southern California Chan Division of Occupational Science and Occupational Therapy believes that no qualified student should be denied the opportunity to pursue a quality education. As the cost of education continues to rise and resources become scarce, financing an education becomes increasingly challenging. Outlined in this document are scholarship, fellowship, grant, and loan opportunities available to Occupational Science and Occupational Therapy students. We encourage you to apply.

All division awards apply to graduate students with the exception of the Tony Pompelio Award, which is also awarded to a student in their senior year of undergraduate education in the Accelerated Bachelor's to Master's Program.

DIVISION OF OCCUPATIONAL SCIENCE AND OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY AWARDS

Each year, the USC Chan Division of Occupational Science and Occupational Therapy provides merit-based financial support to continuing enrolled students and applicants accepted for admission. These awards recognize:

- Academic merit as determined by undergraduate grades and test scores;
- Indications of potential for special contributions in the field of occupational therapy.

As the majority of students begin their studies in the summer or fall, most of the large scholarship awards are made at that time of admission. Awards to continuing students are usually based on academic performance in the program. Students should receive notification by May for summer and fall awards, and December 15 for spring awards*.

*Exception: The Tony Pompelio and Hisako Saeki Award recipients are announced around late Fall.

Deadlines:

- February 15 for students applying for Summer or Fall programs
- March 15 for enrolled continuing students
- TBA for Tony Pompelio and Hisako Saeki Award
- November 15 for students entering in the Spring

Application Procedures:

- Applicants for admission must submit a completed Division Application for Admission (including GRE scores) by the deadline.
- Continuing students and applicants must submit a completed Division Award Application. (Please see the last page of this document).
- Please include any other information that may be requested in the specific award description.
- The selection for awards will be based on information provided as part of your departmental Application for Admission and/or your performance in our program, so be sure to include any additional items you feel would strengthen your application.

USC PROGRAMS

USC also offers a number of programs to provide additional financial support to student, such as those listed below.

TUITION REIMBURSEMENT DEFERMENT

Students whose employers pay at least 75% of the tuition at the end of the term are eligible to apply for the Tuition Reimbursement Deferment. Your supervisor or personnel officer needs to write a letter, on company letterhead, each semester indicating the percentage of tuition your organization will cover. This letter is to be submitted to the Cashier's Office when settling your fees. You will need to pay one fourth of your tuition and related fees plus a non-refundable 4% service charge on the deferred amount when applying for this deferment. The balance of your tuition will be deferred until January 25 for fall term and April 25 for spring term. Additional information may be obtained from the USC Cashier's Office (213) 740-7471.

USC PAYMENT PLAN

The USC Payment Plan enables the participant to cover the cost of tuition, mandatory fees, lab fees, USC room and board charges with 10 equal monthly installments from August 1 to May 1. Applications should be submitted by July 15. The application requires a nonrefundable $50 fee. For more information, students should contact the USC Payment Plan, Los Angeles, CA 90089-1054, (213) 740-4077.

<https://fbs.usc.edu/depts/sfs/page/1562/payment-plan/>

RESIDENT COORDINATOR OR GRADUATE RESIDENT ADVISOR

To be a Head Resident or Graduate Advisor includes room and board plus varying tuition and stipend amounts. Applicants must have management and leadership ability; residential or Greek life experience is required. Student would be working in undergraduate residence halls or in campus fraternities. Students who are interested should apply directly to the Office of Residential Life, University of Southern California, Student Union Room 200, Los Angeles, CA 90089-4892 (213) 740-2080. <http://sait.usc.edu/ResEd/employment.asp>

COLLEGIATE CHOICE STUDENT LOAN

The Collegiate Choice Student Loan is a low interest loan provided by the USC Credit Union. The Collegiate Choice Student Loan can be used to pay for the total cost of education, less other financial aid, with an aggregate maximum of $75,000 for undergraduate students and $150,000 for graduate students. Students should use this loan to supplement all other financial aid options as necessary, including federal student loans. The interest rate is variable, with an annual adjustment cap of 2% and lifetime adjustment cap of 7%. The Academic Rewards Program allows students to reduce their interest rate by up to 1% based on their cumulative GPA. Payment on the Collegiate Choice Student Loan must begin within a 6-month grace period beginning right after the student graduates and repayment must be completed within 25 years.

AWARDS AND RESOURCES ADMINISTERED THROUGH OUTSIDE AGENCIES

Listed on the following pages are several outside agencies that award scholarships and fellowships to graduate students. Each contains a brief description of the award. If you feel you would qualify for any of these, you should contact the agency directly for specific award criteria, amount, application process, and deadlines. DO NOT WAIT UNTIL YOU HAVE BEEN ACCEPTED BY USC TO APPLY FOR THESE! Please note that there is a list of suggested source books at the end of this packet which may help you further.

OTHER FINANCIAL AID PROGRAMS

Undergraduates are best served by visiting the USC website: www.usc.edu/finaid. Graduate students have a variety of options to help fund their studies and are advised to contact the Financial Aid office on the USC Health Science Campus for any questions regarding loans or federal aid: medfao@usc.edu.

FEDERAL AID

To apply for all federal financial aid at USC, follow the steps listed below. Keep copies of all documents for your records. Applicants who meet all deadlines and who plan to enroll for at least 8 units per semester will be considered for the Federal Stafford Loan, Federal Perkins Loan and Federal Work-study programs. Students should visit www.usc.edu/finaid for further details or assistance.

FEDERAL STUDENT AID (FAFSA)

Complete a FAFSA by midnight, central daylight time, May 11, 2017, using best estimates of students' (and spouses') previous year taxable and untaxed income. File the FAFSA online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. On the FAFSA, fill in USC's federal school code: 001328. Submit the FAFSA application to the federal processor and the online Enrollment and Housing Form to the USC Financial Aid office by June 30, 2017. Students can also obtain a paper copy of the FAFSA from their local college and mail it to the federal processor.

Note: Students who miss any of the financial aid deadlines will still be considered for the Federal Stafford Loan program.

Continuing graduate students also need to complete and submit a 2017-2018 FAFSA application and Enrollment and Housing Form to the USC Financial Aid Office. For faxing instructions, visit <http://financialaid.usc.edu/general/help-contact-us-general.html>.

FEDERAL WORK STUDY

The Federal Work Study Program, a federally funded program, provides part-time employment opportunities to qualified graduate students. The student may work up to 20 hours per week for an on or off campus employer in an approved federal work-study job. Payment is made for the amount of hours worked, up to the award amount. Awards range from $800-$3,500 per year. You are automatically considered for the Federal Work Study program if you complete your financial aid application by the established deadline and meet all the eligibility requirements.

FEDERAL STAFFORD STUDENT LOAN (UNSUBSIDIZED)

The Federal Stafford Loan program is a low interest, long term federal loan program that provides assistance to both students who demonstrate need as well as to students who are either not eligible for need-based aid or who wish to supplement their need-based aid with further funding. The interest rate is variable, not to exceed 9.5% for graduate/professional students. Students who demonstrate need and meet all eligibility requirements may borrow up to $8,500 per academic year under the Subsidized Federal Stafford Loan program. Most students can take out up to $12,000 Unsubsidized Stafford for a total of $20,500 in Stafford per year. Payment on the interest is not due immediately, but the interest will begin accruing immediately. The student has the choice to pay interest while enrolled. Repayment of principal and interest for the Subsidized Federal Loan begins six months after the borrower ceases to be enrolled at least half time. Students who do not demonstrate financial need or who wish to supplement their Federal Stafford Loan may borrow up to $18,500 per academic year. For the Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan, interest payment begins immediately unless the student chooses to capitalize the accrued interest at repayment. Payment of principal, however, usually begins six months after the student ceases to be enrolled at least half-time. The 2017-2018 fixed rate for all graduate unsubsidized Federal Direct Stafford Loans is 6%.

FEDERAL DIRECT GRADUATE PLUS LOAN

The Federal Graduate and Professional Student PLUS Loan is a low interest, federally backed student loan guaranteed by the US Government. The Grad PLUS Loan can be used to pay for the total cost of education less any aid you've already been awarded. Also, like the undergraduate version, eligibility for the Graduate PLUS Loan is largely dependent on the borrower's credit rating and history, as opposed to the purely need-based Graduate Stafford Loan. To be eligible, student must be enrolled at least half-time, must be a US citizen or permanent resident, and must have already borrowed the maximum in Federal Stafford Loan. The borrower must file the FAFSA prior to applying, and must meet federal minimum credit criteria. The current interest rate (2016-2017) is fixed at 6.31 %, with a 10-year repayment term that begins six months after when the loan is fully disbursed. Payment on the Grad PLUS Loan begins right after the student graduates or drops below half-time.

Note: You may be eligible for a very beneficial loan repayment program. Please see this website: <http://ibrinfo.org/>

CALIFORNIA STATE SUPPORT

THE CHANCELLOR'S DOCTORAL INCENTIVE PROGRAM (CDIP)

The Chancellor's Doctoral Incentive Program offers up to $30,000 in loans for new or continuing full-time students pursuing doctoral degrees at various universities (including USC) who are interested in a faculty career at a CSU campus. After completion of the doctoral program, 20% of the loan is forgiven for each year of full-time faculty service at a CSU campus. Deadline is in early spring. For more information, see <http://www.calstate.edu/hr/cdip/apply>.

CALIFORNIA STATE GRADUATE FELLOWSHIP

U.S. citizens or legal residents of California who demonstrate financial need and plan to pursue recognized graduate degrees in California and demonstrate their intent to become a college or university faculty member are eligible. Awards vary and all applicants indicate interest on their FAFSA application no later than the early March deadline. Information is available from CSAC, the Financial Aid Office, or the CSAC website (<http://www.csac.ca.gov/>).

PRIVATE FINANCIAL SUPPORT

A number of financing programs are available to help you meet your educational expenses. USC participates in a number of long-term loan programs and offers a short-term monthly payment plan. Each year you may apply for financing to fund any difference between the financial assistance you receive and the actual cost of attending USC. These programs are described in detail in the USC Financial Aid website at <http://www.usc.edu/admission/fa/loans/private.html>.
