Documentation for Reimbursement

Effective documentation and coding are critical issues in educational, research and clinical practice environments. Rules and regulations as well as penalties and sanctions have become increasingly complex and far reaching. The information presented in this course will provide participants with an understanding of basic compliance principles, specific concepts relevant to the practice, documentation, billing and coding of occupational therapy services, as well as critical updates of regulatory changes and new proposed rules. Insightful discussion and thought-provoking activities will assist participants in their understanding of the content and achievement of the learning objectives. Learn how to make your documentation stronger now and prepare for the future.

Learning Objectives

- Describe elements of an effective compliance program.
- Understand the standards for and be able to effectively document “medical necessity” in compliance with third party payer guidelines.
- Adapt your practice to comply with the Medicare therapy guidelines for 2016.
