

If you plan to drink ...

- Consume alcohol with food
- Avoid sugary, mixed drinks
- Test your blood glucose regularly and often
- Drink with a friend or someone who knows how to treat low blood glucose
- Never drink and drive
- Sip your beverage slowly (or alternate between alcoholic/non-alcoholic drinks)
- Set an alarm to check your blood glucose during the night after drinking

If you plan to drink ...

- Consume alcohol with food
- Avoid sugary, mixed drinks
- Test your blood glucose regularly and often
- Drink with a friend or someone who knows how to treat low blood glucose
- Never drink and drive
- Sip your beverage slowly (or alternate between alcoholic/non-alcoholic drinks)
- Set an alarm to check your blood glucose during the night after drinking

If you plan to drink ...

- Consume alcohol with food
- Avoid sugary, mixed drinks
- Test your blood glucose regularly and often
- Drink with a friend or someone who knows how to treat low blood glucose
- Never drink and drive
- Sip your beverage slowly (or alternate between alcoholic/non-alcoholic drinks)
- Set an alarm to check your blood glucose during the night after drinking

If you plan to drink ...

- Consume alcohol with food
- Avoid sugary, mixed drinks
- Test your blood glucose regularly and often
- Drink with a friend or someone who knows how to treat low blood glucose
- Never drink and drive
- Sip your beverage slowly (or alternate between alcoholic/non-alcoholic drinks)
- Set an alarm to check your blood glucose during the night after drinking

If you plan to drink ...

- Consume alcohol with food
- Avoid sugary, mixed drinks
- Test your blood glucose regularly and often
- Drink with a friend or someone who knows how to treat low blood glucose
- Never drink and drive
- Sip your beverage slowly (or alternate between alcoholic/non-alcoholic drinks)
- Set an alarm to check your blood glucose during the night after drinking

If you plan to drink ...

- Consume alcohol with food
- Avoid sugary, mixed drinks
- Test your blood glucose regularly and often
- Drink with a friend or someone who knows how to treat low blood glucose
- Never drink and drive
- Sip your beverage slowly (or alternate between alcoholic/non-alcoholic drinks)
- Set an alarm to check your blood glucose during the night after drinking

If you plan to drink ...

- Consume alcohol with food
- Avoid sugary, mixed drinks
- Test your blood glucose regularly and often
- Drink with a friend or someone who knows how to treat low blood glucose
- Never drink and drive
- Sip your beverage slowly (or alternate between alcoholic/non-alcoholic drinks)
- Set an alarm to check your blood glucose during the night after drinking

If you plan to drink ...

- Consume alcohol with food
- Avoid sugary, mixed drinks
- Test your blood glucose regularly and often
- Drink with a friend or someone who knows how to treat low blood glucose
- Never drink and drive
- Sip your beverage slowly (or alternate between alcoholic/non-alcoholic drinks)
- Set an alarm to check your blood glucose during the night after drinking

[USE THIS SPACE FOR PERSONALIZED INFORMATION SUCH AS THE CARB CONTENT OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES]

[USE THIS SPACE FOR PERSONALIZED INFORMATION SUCH AS THE CARB CONTENT OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES]

[USE THIS SPACE FOR PERSONALIZED INFORMATION SUCH AS THE CARB CONTENT OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES]

[USE THIS SPACE FOR PERSONALIZED INFORMATION SUCH AS THE CARB CONTENT OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES]

[USE THIS SPACE FOR PERSONALIZED INFORMATION SUCH AS THE CARB CONTENT OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES]

[USE THIS SPACE FOR PERSONALIZED INFORMATION SUCH AS THE CARB CONTENT OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES]

[USE THIS SPACE FOR PERSONALIZED INFORMATION SUCH AS THE CARB CONTENT OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES]

[USE THIS SPACE FOR PERSONALIZED INFORMATION SUCH AS THE CARB CONTENT OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES]