

My Diabetes Care Team

Hospitals and clinics are filled with healthcare providers who are available to help you achieve your diabetes-related and general health goals. However, sometimes it can be overwhelming or confusing to figure out which care providers are the right ones to help you. This chart provides a simple way to keep track of the health care providers you see for your various healthcare needs.

Medical Team (Provider's Name)	What They Do	Have one? (Y/N)	Need one? (Y/N)	Contact Info Address & Phone Number
Primary Care Doctor Dr. Gonzalez	Manages acute illnesses; determines overall plan of care; reviews what other care providers have recommended	Yes	Yes	1540 Alcazar St., Los Angeles, CA 90033 (323) 555-9836
Endocrinologist	Consults on diabetes care regimen (every 3 months)	No	Yes	I used to see Dr. Claiborne but she moved, I need help finding a new doctor
Pharmacist CVS Pharmacy	Provides medications; answers medication questions; checks for drug interactions	Yes	Yes	123 South St., Los Angeles, CA 90001 (323) 555-1624
Ophthalmologist	Checks my eyes for signs of diabetes complications	No	Yes	Dr. Gonzalez gave me a referral to someone at County but I haven't followed up yet
Register Dietitian Ms. Barbara	Teaches me about meal planning and carb counting; Only see her as needed	Yes	Yes	360 Adams Way Los Angeles, CA 90089 (626) 555-5905
Diabetes Educator ADA Los Angeles Office	Teaches me about diabetes management	Yes	Some-times	611 Wilshire Blvd. Los Angeles, CA 90017 (323) 966-2890
Therapist Dr. Winters	Provides coping strategies for anxiety and depression	Yes	Yes	1540 Alcazar St., Los Angeles, CA 90033 (323) 555-9836
Other Medtronic	Provides my insulin pump supplies	Yes	Yes	I'm not sure – need to look this up

My Diabetes Care Team

Hospitals and clinics are filled with healthcare providers who are available to help you achieve your diabetes-related and general health goals. However, sometimes it can be overwhelming or confusing to figure out which care providers are the right ones to help you. This chart provides a simple way to keep track of the health care providers you see for your various healthcare needs.

Medical Team (Provider's Name)	What They Do	Have one? (Y/N)	Need one? (Y/N)	Contact Info Address & Phone Number
Primary Care Doctor
Endocrinologist
Pharmacist
Ophthalmologist
Register Dietitian
Diabetes Educator
Therapist
Other				