Sharing a Video in Zoom...and making sure your students can hear it!

When sharing your screen, if you have a video playing in either youtube or VLC player, by default you won’t be able to have participants hear audio. To fix this you need to do the following before sharing a screen, make sure “Share Computer Sound” is on.
During a sharing, go to the Share menu > More > Share computer sound.
Also if you are using Youtube, since USC’s Zoom only supports Standard Definition, make sure you are using 480p settings so the video isn’t “Choppy” (within the Youtube player).
